Connect

Consider sharing a meal each week together. As you eat together, catch up on the week. Follow up on any prayer requests or life events from last week. If needed, more icebreaker questions are available here.

Grow

1. What has God been stirring in your life this last week?

Share

This week we want to spend time as a life group praying, processing, and planning our serve project for Serve Fresno week (October 14-19). If your group has already planned your serve project see questions 7 & 8 below.

2. Share any of your past experiences with Serve Fresno and ways you were challenged and grew as a result of serving in this way.
3. Are there any areas in your city that you are currently serving and/or passionate about?

Practice

4. Look through this four-part life group guide by the missions team and begin praying and processing how your group plans to serve this October.
5. As a group look through projects currently available on the ServeFresno.org website.
6. If your group already has a serve project, begin praying for your hearts and minds to be prepared for that experience and pray God's will to be done through you and the project.
7. Have someone recap the sermon in 1-2 minutes. What was the most meaningful or significant to you from this last week's sermon?
8. This week we saw the result of Haman's pride lead to incredible injustice toward God's people. How did this passage shift or enlighten your view toward those suffering from injustice?
9. Whether it is something global like anti-semitism or an issue in our city, what are some of the injustices that cause you grief or righteous anger? How are you letting the bible inform both the issues of brokenness and your response, as well as your solutions regarding injustice?
10. Consider sharing a time of lament in prayer over these issues as a group. A solemn prayer to cry out to God over injustice he has made aware of.
